

BRATTLEBORO LOCAL.

The Colonial lawn party which was to be held on the grounds of St. Michael's Roman Catholic church tonight has been postponed one week. The graduation exercises will be held as planned.

The Owaissa Camp Fire girls, Miss Brower guardian, went this afternoon to Spofford lake, where they will occupy the Randall cottage one week. Those in the party are Marion Long, Eleanor Baker, Maxette Hamilton, Edwidge Carr, Katherine Deening, Eleanor Eekels, Emma Atkinson, Mildred Eddy, Irma Ratte.

In consequence of the decrease of drunkenness in Russia, due to the prohibition of the sale of vodka, fires have largely decreased.

PERSONAL.

There will be a business meeting of the Boy Scouts, troop No. 1, at 7 o'clock tonight in the Centre church house.

Miss Anna L. Davis, superintendent of the Brattleboro Mutual Aid association, will leave town tomorrow for a vacation of two months.

Stanley Wilson of Brattleboro, a student at the University of Vermont in the medical department, has enlisted in the hospital corps.

The graduating class of 1916, with Miss Mary D. Houshaw, as chaperone, went this morning by automobiles to the Harris cottage at Spofford lake, where they are enjoying a day's outing.

An acre of good fishing grounds at sea will yield more food in a week than an acre of the best land will in one year.

PERHAPS IS NAME OF YEARLY'S HORSE

Perhaps He Will Make Good and Perhaps Not—Taken in Trade for Pedro and Will Be Trained.

H. P. Yearly is driving a new and handsome horse which he has named temporarily, Perhaps. He says the animal may be a good truck performer and perhaps not.

The story of the animal is an interesting one. He is one of the string that A. B. Martin has been training at the fair grounds all the spring, the others of which were shipped away this morning. This particular animal has been entered in stake races for two years and has never started yet. He is one of the "dainty" ones and never seems to be ready to settle down to business.

Mr. Yearly has owned Pedro several years and the horse has taken part in 60 races the last three years and never been behind the money but three times, and on one of those times he was drawn from the race after having taken second place in two heats.

The former owner of Perhaps, disgusted the other day with the performance of the horse he had spent hundreds of dollars on in training and in paying entries, asked Mr. Yearly how he would swap. Upon being told, he allowed that a trade had been made. Pedro was shipped away this morning with the others of Martin's string, and Perhaps remains to go into strenuous training under Mr. Yearly. Mr. Yearly this morning said that it meant a good many days of 18 to 25 miles a day at all sorts of gaits, with a hard run, the gait most generally preferred by the animal. If the wagon and harness holds and the horse is not blessed with a constitution that cannot be trained down to working at a pace suited to a wheeled vehicle, Mr. Yearly says that perhaps he has made a valuable trade. In any event he asserts that when the horse could be gotten to work respectably there has been nothing on the local track that could stay on the same side of the race course after the first quarter of a mile.

VERNON.

Funeral of Elias P. Johnson.

The funeral of Elias Proctor Johnson, 81, was held at Union church Friday at 2 o'clock, following a prayer at the home at 1 o'clock. Rev. D. E. Trout officiating. Many beautiful floral pieces, attested the esteem in which Mr. Johnson was held. The choir sang Nearer My God to Thee, Saved by Grace and In the Sweet Bye and Bye. The burial took place in the Tyler cemetery. Among those from out of town were Mrs. William Beyette and little daughter of North Adams, and Mrs. E. C. Roberts of Brattleboro.

In the death of Mr. Johnson the town loses an honest, upright citizen and one who was a master workman in his chosen field. The bearers were G. K. Stebbins, H. A. Brown, W. J. Weatherhead and H. E. Powers.

Four young men enlisted in Company I this morning, and five have signified their intention to enlist this afternoon.

The four examined this morning passed the examination and were enrolled. They are Guy Stockwell, Ralph H. Gould and George Feeto of Brattleboro and Jed Franklin of Guilford.

This afternoon Harry T. Dowley was examined and enrolled.

The Brattleboro men who left as enlisted men in the First Regiment band were C. M. Dugan, Charles Brookington, A. W. Trendall, E. M. Goodenough, Sewall Morse and Edward Gonyer.

In Company I are two families each represented by three sons, a rather unusual condition. Mrs. Sarah Dunlevy of Harris place has three sons, in the company, well known in Brattleboro. They are Frank A., Louis M., and Bernard D. Dunlevy. The enlistment this morning of Joseph I. Marshall of West Chesterfield, N. H., brought the total representation of the family of Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall of Hinsdale, N. H., up to three sons, for two others enlisted yesterday in Hinsdale. The others are George J. and John Marshall, Jr.

The reception at Island park last evening tendered to the members of the company was attended by many more people than could find opportunity to dance. A few of the members of the company indulged in the pastime, but many others preferred to "sit out" the dances. But there was no dearth of dancers. The floor was always crowded and the walks about the pavilion, the piazzas and the bridge itself were all congested. The music was good, the floor as smooth and slippery as it always is, and the fact that Horton D. Walker was paying the bills made the dancing free and it continued to long after the time when the young men who are leaving Brattleboro for Burlington and probably for the Mexican frontier could have been thinking advantageously of a good night's sleep before starting what will prove to be anything but a pleasure jaunt.

Notes of the Company.

Former First Lieutenant Clarence W. Trendall, who resigned recently, re-enlisted yesterday and was made a sergeant at once.

Capt. E. W. Gibson has received orders to recruit the company in every town in the county where men are obtainable, retaining here two privates for recruiting duty. Capt. Gibson will be relieved later in this duty by Lieut. Spaulding.

Capt. Gibson of Company I enlisted for the First Regiment band yesterday William A. Alarie of Springfield and Harry A. Bixby of Brattleboro. He transferred Harry Ayers from Company K of Springfield to the band.

Bernard D. Dunlevy, who is a member of the graduating class of St. Michael's college, received permission last evening to leave on the late train to graduate with his class and join the company at the state camp ground after the exercises tomorrow.

Information was received here late yesterday that a machine gun company will be recruited in the state at once. Company I, as usual, has a start on a squad by the offer of a gun as soon as the government determines the make of the gun to be adopted and makes them available for purchase by the National Guard. Company I has a friend, as yet unnamed, who is ready to furnish the gun.

One young recruit had had teeth. He walked into the office of Dr. A. Les Pettee yesterday afternoon and asked if he could get by an examination with his teeth. Upon learning that he could not he said that he wanted to go with the company and that it was up to the dentist, Dr. Pettee, who offered his services to the members of the company some time ago, went to work. Neither he nor his patient stopped for supper and when he had finished the work the young man had 12 new fillings in his teeth and was accepted and left this morning with the company. Dr. Pettee said last evening that the boy proved that he wanted to go so badly that he was willing to work as long as his patient could stand it. He added that there were few men who have the grit that the boy displayed.

tees as they desired. The report was accepted and adopted unanimously. Maj. F. W. Childs, in behalf of the class of 1872, presented Mr. Smith a pocketbook made from a rattlesnake's skin, the reptile having been killed in Tallahassee, Fla. It contained a number of nickels for "carfare," and in presenting it Major Childs told Mr. Smith that unless the school committee had recently raised his salary he would find ample room in the little book.

Refreshments were then announced and brick ice-cream, cake and lemonade were served by Caterer Austin E. Miller, who gave the usual satisfactory service. Some of the classes assembled in separate rooms for reunions, which were not the least interesting part of the occasion, letters being read, old photographs shown and school days talked over.

This was the 25th anniversary of the class of 1891 and 11 of the graduates were present, besides several who did not complete the course. Those coming from away were Allyn J. Crosby of Springfield (Vt.), Miss M. Wynne Wadsworth of Springfield, Mass., Mrs. Fred A. Morris (Miss Annie Perce) of Ludlow, Mass., Mrs. Charles T. Hawley (Miss Mabel Freeman) of Holden, Mass., and J. Frank Wheeler of Williamstown, Conn. Others at this reunion from this town were Miss Amy J. Hines, Mrs. Louise (Coates) Maynard, Mrs. Leuna (Thomas) Tenney, Mrs. Annie (Henkel) Ward, Mrs. Vinnie (Ellmer) Richardson, Miss Grace M. Emerson, Mrs. Carrie (Huntley) Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Spencer and Walter A. Gilbert.

Principal Smith had slips of paper passed in order that those from out of town might register, and from those slips, with the exception of those in the 25th anniversary class, the following names are taken: Mrs. Etta Clapp Bryant of Worcester, Mass.; Mrs. A. H. Hunt of Nashua, N. H.; Leon M. Lamb of Greenfield, Mass.; Sherman Austin Jenne and wife, Elva (Hawkes) Jenne of Hartford, Conn.; George H. Cassett of Putney; Raymond W. Geddis of Hinsdale, N.
